

JAMMING ON THE SAX

Alex von Kleydorff / Hearst Connecticut Media

At left, musician Jim Clark plays a Cannonball Adderley song during the Jim Clark Music Mini-Series at the Norwalk Public Library on Sunday. In the second of his three-part series, Clark showcases the saxophone and discusses how it was invented and how it evolved as an instrument. The last in the series, Songs from American Films, takes place on Aug. 20 at the library. Above, patrons listen to Clark play on his saxophone at the library.
